Mingo County Annual Report 2020

Putting Knowledge to Work!

The West Virginia University Extension Service works to provide solutions in your community through key programs and resources, including agriculture and natural resources; 4-H and youth development; food and nutrition; health and wellness; financial planning; and home gardening. These research-based programs and services are available to all Mingo County residents thanks to the tremendous support of our community members, local organizations, volunteers and local partners, including the Board of Education and County Commission.

Highlights

- Thirteen youths learned about ATV safety by completing the ATV safety course offered by WVU Extension Service.
- 125 local youths enhanced their reading skills and received nutritious meals by participating in the Energy Express program.

4-H/Youth Development

Camping

- 65 campers participated in the first-ever virtual camp.
- Thirteen youths completed the ATV safety course offered by WVU Extension Service.

Energy Express

- 125 youths participated in the Energy Express program, a summer literacy and nutrition program.

Local Foods

- The local farmers market celebrated its fifteenth year.

Community Development/Tourism/Economic Development

- Continued to provide tours of the Hatfield McCoy feud sites.